Voters to make final decisions in Tuesday election

BY DENA BISNETTE
Voters will make their final decisions Tuesday on who will fill public offices still open for terms beginning in 1988.

In local races, Republican challenger Gail R. Nami will face incumbent Democrat Harold J. Stiglet Sr. for coroner.

Incumbent Justice Court Judge East Joseph "Joe" Dobson, a democrat, has two opponents, independent Thomas P. Clarke and Republican Buford L. Ladner.

Both constable races are still undecided. In the West District, Gary L. Bennett, a Democrat, will face L.J. "Larry" Peterson, an independent. In the East District, Democrat Paul Ladner will vie for the post with Republican Louis A. Peterson.

Two supervisor posts are still open. In Beat One, Robert "Pete" Peterson Jr., who defeated incumbent Bert Courge in the Democratic primary run-off, will face an independent, James H. "Jimmy" Thornton.

In Beat Five, Republican Mike Anthony will challenge Democrat Michael "Mike" Ladner, who defeated incumbent James Trivica in the Democratic primary run-off election.

Other posts have only one candidate left because those candidates either won in the primary elections or were unopposed.

They include Edward D. Murtagh Jr., tax collector and assessor, the only incumbent who was originally unopposed; E. Michael Necaise, chancery clerk; Pamela Thomas Metzler, circuit clerk; Ronald A. Peterson, sheriff; Terrell Randolph, superintendent of education; Lee B. Klein, justice court judge west; Ronald E. Cuevas, beat two supervisor; Roger Dale Ladner, beat three supervisor; and Sam J. Pernicaro Sr., beat four supervisor.

The ballot also includes a special election for Hancock County School Board Beat Three, a seat vacated earlier this year by resignation of Tommy Shaw and temporarily filled by one of the candidates, Wayne King.

King has four challengers, Carol Bustetter, Billy Joe Ladner, Howard R. Ladner and Johnnie Richard.

District elections are all uncontested except State Senator for District 46, where incumbent Representative Margaret "Wootsie" Tate will face independent Larry Albritton and Republican Marc A. Chetta. Tate is a democrat.

Those listed on the ballot for other district races include Glenn Cannon, district attorney; Curtis Holston, District 106 representative; Gene Taylor, District 46 senator; J.P. Compretta, District 122 representative.

State office candidates include Ray Mabus, Democrat, and Jack Reed, Republican, for governor; Brad Dye, Democrat, Tom Hamby, Republican, and Henry Kirksey, independent, for lieutenant governor; Dick Molpus, democrat, and Billy Taylor, Republican, for secretary of state; and Jim Herring, Republican, and Mike Moore, Democrat, for attorney general.

Also included are Marshall G. Bennett, Democrat, and Wil Colom, Republican, for state treasurer;

Pete Johnson, Democrat, and Danny Ware, Republican, for state auditor; George Dale, Democrat, insurance commissioner; Clyde Magee, Republican, and Jim Buck Ross, Democrat, for agriculture commissioner; Lynn Havens, Democrat, southern district public service commissioner; and Robert E. "Bob" Joiner, southern district highway commissioner.

Also included are 10 proposed constitutional amendments, including:

- House Concurrent Resolution No. 7, which pertains to wills leaving money or property to charitable institutions;
- House Concurrent Resolution No. 9, allowing the legislature to provide for establishment, maintenance and support of free public schools;
- House Concurrent Resolution No. 13, repealing a section of the state constitution that prohibits mixed-race marriages;
- House Concurrent Resolution No. 19, providing for a State College Board trustee representing a special

Hancock Chamber endorses SBA resource conference

Congressman Trent Lott and the Small Business Administration (SBA) are co-sponsoring a one-day Resource Conference at the Royal D'Iberville Hotel in Biloxi on Friday, Nov. 6. Registration will be held from 8 to 9 a.m., with the conference beginning at 9 a.m.

"Congressman Lott is interested in having a district-wide gathering of all known identifiable resources that are available to the 9,088 businesses in his district," said Herb

Dubuisson, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce President, "and is requesting the SBA to compile a resource data guide to be made available to all that attend."

The conference is designed to provide a live forum for small businesses to assemble, hear firsthand and speak to more than 30 different participating resource personnel.

It will additionally provide an opportunity for small businesses to establish a rapport with resource persons that may be needed at a later date.

"We at the Chamber encourage all our members and all businesses in Hancock County to attend this Fifth District conference," Dubuisson continued, "and we think it is a must for entrepreneurs planning a change in business practice, such as expansion or relocation, or solving financial problems."

Further information is available by contacting the Chamber office at 467-9048.

Crash kills Hancock woman

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Sheriff's Department is continuing an investigation of a two-car accident that killed a Hancock County woman and injured another person Friday evening.

Lisa Marie Whitten, a resident of Standard, was pronounced dead at 8:35 p.m. Friday by Hancock County Coroner Harold Stiglet after attempts to revive her failed at Crosby Memorial Hospital in Picaune.

The coroner said she had actually died about 7:27 p.m. and that the cause of death was multiple head injuries.

She had been transported to Picaune by a helicopter ambulance operated out of Forrest General Hospital in Hattiesburg, after Diamondhead Fire Department personnel used Jaws of Life to free her from her Nissan car.

The accident had been reported at 5:06 p.m., Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson stated. It occurred about one mile east of Highway 43 on Dummyline Road.

Peterson said Whitten's vehicle had collided "almost head-on" with an Oldsmobile driven by David Lane

Lee of Bienville Community near Flat Top.

"We still don't know exactly what caused it," he said Saturday morning. "We have deputies looking at the scene right now to try to determine what happened."

Lee was injured and was taken to Crosby Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Deputies at the scene Friday night included Leo Ladner, Bobby Ray Necaise, Kent Malley and R.D. Ladner. Assisting in addition to Diamondhead Fire Department was Mobile Medic Ambulance Service.

History of Cedar Rest Cemetery completed by Historical Society

CEMETERY HISTORY—Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor J. Francikiewicz Jr., left, and Meg Hilker of the Hancock Historical Society examine a book on the history of the Cedar Rest Cemetery on Second Street. The book which was compiled by the historical society took more than three years to complete. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
A three-year project to research the history of Cedar Rest Cemetery in Bay St. Louis was recently completed by the Hancock County Historical Society.

Heading up the project was Meg Hilker, who can quote facts about the cemetery like a preacher quotes scriptures.

Hilker also knows many interesting and humorous facts about the cemetery—"The oldest grave in the cemetery is that of the young girl Powhatten Robertson who died Oct. 1, 1820...in the bloom of youth."

However this grave was one moved from a cemetery on Beach Boulevard near St. Charles Street, Hilker said.

There were several graves of Indians in this cemetery on the beach road and because they are now buried in the Cedar Rest Cemetery, it is listed on the National Register of Historic Sites, she added.

The present site of the cemetery was actually deeded to the city in three portions, beginning in 1836, Hilker said.

"Several of the grave sites include the bodies of more than one person but what I really call togetherness is the grave where the first wife was buried first, then the husband and then the second wife," she stated.

Hilker can also point out a crypt, which was built by an eccentric Bay St. Louis resident to put her cats in when they died.

According to the facts compiled by the Historical Society, the cemetery has 2,600 grave spaces.

"We tried to catalogue the graves by the people buried there but learned this was the wrong way and started over using grave spaces," she said.

Of the 2,600 possible grave sites, there are 1862 people buried in known sites and 250 in unmarked spaces.

There are also 50 reserved spaces, 486 spaces within a coping or under a slab that is not marked, Hilker said.

Twenty-nine potential spaces are occupied by trees, sidewalks, etc.

Only 173 spaces in the entire cemetery are not marked.

Hilker compiled a book including most of the information on the cemetery and presented a copy of this to the city.

The Historical Society also has a copy of this book.

Included in the book is an alphabetical listing of all known persons buried there.

"One thing that makes records of cemeteries in the South so important is that many records were destroyed during the Civil War," she said.

For some people, the only available information on the family's history is what can be found in cemeteries, she added.

Participating in the Cedar Rest project were Mark Moore, Genevieve Daniels, Reggie Robinson, Peggy Gibbons, Mary Leigh Weston, Fannie Marquez, Helene Price and Pat Cuculla.

One way the group managed to gather information on the cemetery was to man the graveyard on All Saints Day and get visitors to tell whatever they knew about the cemetery.

Hilker said anyone seeking information about the cemetery can contact the Historical Society at P. O. Box 1340, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520.

Hancock County Fair set to open Tuesday

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The 1987 Hancock County Fair is expected to be better than ever.

The county fairs in Hancock County have been improving over the past several years and this year will be even better, according to Hancock County Extension Agent Lee Taylor.

"Several people commented last year about how the fair was the best family event in the area for many years because of the variety of entertainment offered," he said.

"We hope everyone will come out to the fair," Taylor said.

The livestock show has been expanded and residents of a six-county area have been invited to participate in the show, he said.

"We also believe there is going to be a really good flower show," Taylor said.

From all indications, there will also be many exceptional crafts on display in the exhibit hall, he stated.

In addition to the adult craft division to be on display, there will be youth crafts, 4-H and FFA exhibits. Mitchell Brothers Amusements will be on the midway again this year with rides and games.

The Hancock County Fair and Livestock Queen will be crowned Thursday night. Applications for the beauty pageant, which is open to all ages, will be taken through 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Supervisors asked to consider establishment of water district

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has been asked to reconsider a proposed water management district rejected last year.

The board rejected the proposal, brought up by Gulf Regional Planning Commission Director Jim Head and personnel from U.S. Geological Survey, because a study on water supply and quality was still in progress at the time.

On Thursday, Head and Commission Attorney Michael Haas Sr.

brought the matter to the board again, along with a letter from the Harrison County Board of Supervisors asking that the proposed district be reconsidered.

In addition, Head brought the board a draft copy of a preliminary report on the U.S. Geological Survey study.

At the request of Beat Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner, the board agreed to accept the letter and report into its records but delay any other action in order to provide the supervisors with time to study the report.

In addition, Ladner pointed out that a decision would not have been appropriate on Thursday because one supervisor was absent and another had had to leave the meeting early.

Head explained that the report is only preliminary, but it indicates that the problem of managing a potable water supply can not be solved on a county-by-county basis.

Jackson County has already had problems with salt water intrusion due to loss of pressure resulting from taking too much water from the low side of an aquifer shared with Hancock and Harrison counties.

Some problems have already showed up in Harrison County, but Hancock County is on the highest part of the aquifer and does not have a serious problem at this point, Head explained.

In addition to the problem of having enough drinkable water, the management district would cope with the problem of trying to keep that water uncontaminated by industrial or household garbage and other pollutants.

He said building a reservoir might not be the answer in a coastal region, because an impoundment of fresh water might upset the freshwater-saltwater balance needed for some parts of the seafood production industry.

IRS reminds

It's time for Vita!

JACKSON—VITA: It means Volunteer Income Tax Assistance. And assistance is just what it provides. This year more than 500 volunteers in the state assisted over 7,000 Mississippians in preparing their 1986 tax returns.

The coming year is special with tax law changes made by the Tax Reform Act of 1986. Now, more people than ever will need help with their 1987 returns. This increased demand for assistance means more volunteers are needed, and now is the time to get involved.

College students, law students, homemakers, members of volunteer and community organizations, business men and women and private citizens—people like you—can make a difference by participating in the IRS' VITA Program.

If you've been looking for a beneficial program to get involved with, VITA is your answer. You can fill any number of roles in the program.

In addition to actually filling out the more simple tax forms for taxpayers, VITA volunteers explain the special credits and deductions people may claim and calculate any refund that may be due them.

Some volunteers help organize publicity for a site and organize the activities at a particular site.

Sites are selected at shopping centers, schools, churches, community outreach centers, libraries and other neighborhood locations. The convenience of the taxpayer is the primary consideration when selecting a site.

Volunteers receive free instructions and training materials at special seminars conducted at locations convenient for volunteers.

IRS professionals conduct the training in December and January. Once you've received the training, you can volunteer to serve as frequently and regularly as you want to. The amount of time you give is completely up to you.

Many volunteers in the past have prepared their own tax returns as a result of the training they received at the IRS' VITA volunteer training class.

Now is the time to sign up to help your fellow Mississippians. Please call or write to: Internal Revenue Service; Taxpayer Education Coordinator; 100 West Capitol Street, Suite 504, Stop 30; Jackson, MS 39269; Telephone (601) 965-4142 or toll-free 1-800-424-1040.

Bay schools plan parent-teacher conferences

BY DENA BISNETTE
Parent-teacher conferences for the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District have been scheduled for Monday night and Tuesday during the regular school day.

According to Superintendent of Education Roger Oge, teachers will be available for conferences from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. Monday at all four of the district's schools, which include North Bay Elementary, Waveland Elementary, Bay Junior High and Bay Senior High.

"There will be no school for children on Tuesday but students are encouraged to attend parent-teacher conferences," the superintendent said.

Parents need to call the schools for appointments for Monday night or Tuesday afternoon conferences, but the teachers will see them on a drop-in basis Tuesday morning.

"Parents are strongly encouraged to open the lines of communications with their children's teachers in order to improve their students' performance," Oge said.

*The Line Finder SwitchPass library acquires telephone equipment

With city of Pass Christian celebrating its 88th year with telephone service during the month of October, a bit of telephone history was added to the city's public library displays last week.

Marking this anniversary and recent conversion to the new electronic switching system in Pass Christian was installation of the "Line Finder Switch" salvaged and restored by local Electronic Technician Jay Lagasse and Central Office Supervisor Donald Kay for Kay Covode, head librarian of Pass Christian Public Library.

The switch was one of hundreds used by the old step-by-step office equipment and was an integral part of the machinery that dialed the numbers area customers were calling.

South Central Bell reports over 3,800 customers in the 452 exchange and approximately 3,900 customers in the 255 exchange. This compares to the 30 customers serviced in October 1899.

Coroner Hancock County

Tuesday, November 3 General Election

ELECT

I have been in Hancock County since 1980 as a resident of Diamondhead.

As your coroner I will not just pronounce deaths, but use my office at my expense, at no cost to you or the county for continuing education for children and adults on prevention of accidents and deaths in the home, on water and on our highways. I have members of the Dive Rescue Squad, fully qualified paramedics, police, emergency room nurses and fire fighters who will assist me at no pay or expense to you.

- an active volunteer through Diamondhead Fire Department since 1981.
- an practicing emergency medical technician since 1983.
- completed EMT-I level this past December at Jeff Davis Jr. College
- an active auxiliary deputy with H.C.S.O. and have attended and completed all law enforcement training programs.
- certified dive master
- certified Dive Rescue II Specialist (rope rescue & underwater investigating)
- volunteer team leader of Hancock Dive Rescue Squad
- provider of first aid at county events.
- volunteer beach patrol Summer weekends
- assist all agencies, providing first-aid, evacuation, communications and rescue in times of disasters
- assist sheriff dept., police dept., highway patrol and fire depts. countywide with accidents and wrecks, through rescuing victims and medical aid.

AS YOUR CORONER I WILL HELP PREVENT UNNECESSARY DEATHS AND ACCIDENTS

When elected I will complete the states' 1986 mandatory five (5) day training school for coroners, and I will continue my hundreds of hours of ongoing medical, rescue, police and fire training at my own expense.

I am familiar with Hancock County and its people from the years of providing emergency medical care, rescue and aid. All equipment and training has been at my own expense without any county or state funds. I have spent over $50,000 of my own money to support those activities for the county and will continue to do so. I already have the necessary communications and emergency and medical equipment which would not incur any expense to the county.

FOR REAL PROGRESS AND A BRIGHTER FUTURE VOTE TUESDAY FOR

GAIL NAMI
Coroner-Hancock County

Be sure to vote on Tuesday

On Tuesday the leaders for the state of Mississippi and every county for the next four years will be elected.

This General Election is very important as many of the slots have two or three candidates vying for the positions.

Every vote does count, and the primary elections proved this when in a run-off race only one vote separated the two candidates, and after a recount and adding the affidavit ballots there still was only a one vote difference.

On Tuesday a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, state treasurer, state auditor, agriculture commissioner, district senator, county coroner, justice court judge, two constables, and two board of supervisor positions have challengers in Hancock County.

True, not every qualified elector may be able to vote on every position, as some are on a district level, but there are many people to be elected on each ballot.

There is also a race for the Hancock County School in District Three with five candidates vying for the position.

This is not to mention a total of 10 amendments on the ballots.

Every qualified elector is urged to get out and vote on Tuesday.

It is hoped a record number of qualified electors in Hancock County will cast a ballot on Tuesday.

Be sure to vote for the candidates of your choice.

Mississippi Economic Council

The chairman of the state's largest business organization is encouraging Mississippians to vote in favor of the ten Constitutional amendments on the November 3 ballot.

"Constitutional change is critical to the advancement of this state," said Kenneth Milam, chairman of the Mississippi Economic Council.

"Our legislators are giving us an opportunity to make immediate changes through the amendment process. If all of these needed amendments pass, perhaps it will encourage our new legislators to finish the job next year in the quickest way possible—by using the amendment process," he said.

The proposed amendments, all supported by MEC, are:

1. Amend Section 29

"... provides that county or circuit court judges may deny bail for offenses punishable by imprisonment for a maximum of twenty (20) years or more or by life imprisonment when the proof is evident or the presumption great after determining that the release of the person arrested for the offense would constitute a special danger to others or to the community or that no conditions will reasonably assure such person's appearance."

2. Amend Section 41

"... deletes reference to a county or floridial district in the residency requirement for a member of the House of Representatives and requires that a candidate for the House of Representatives, in addition to other existing qualifications, be a resident of the district such person seeks to serve."

3. Amend Section 178

"... removes a provision providing that charters for private corporations for profit shall not be granted for more than 99 years. The amendment also deletes a provision which provides for taxing the increased value of the property and franchise of a corporation with a charter of longer than 99 years, but which gives such corporation the right to surrender the excess of its charter over 99 years."

4. Repeal Section 189

"... repeals a section of the Constitution that provides that all charters granted to private corporations in this state shall be recorded in the chancery clerk's office in the county in which the principal office or place of business of such company shall be located."

5. Repeal Section 194

"... repeals a section of the Constitution that provides that every corporate stockholder shall have the right to vote his shares of stock for all directors to be elected or to cumulate his shares for one candidate. This section also permits the issuance of preferred stock without voting rights and prohibits a director from having certain competing business interest without the stockholders' consent."

6. Repeal Section 196

"... repeals a section of the Constitution that prohibits a transportation corporation from issuing stocks or bonds without receiving money, property, or labor in return. This section of the constitution also provides that all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void."

7. Amend Section 201, Repeal Sections 205, 213-B

"... requires the Legislature to provide for the establishment, maintenance, and support of free public schools upon such conditions and limitations as the Legislature may prescribe, and repeals a section authorizing the Legislature to establish free public schools and school terms in each county. The amendment also repeals a section which authorizes public schools to be abolished by the Legislature or by the counties and school districts when authorized by the Legislature."

8. Repeal Section 263

"... repeals Section 263 of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890 which provides that the marriage of a white person with a Negro, mulatto, or person having one-eighth or more of Negro blood shall be unlawful and void."

9. Amend Section 213-A

"... deletes the provision for the La Baue Fund Trustee on the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning."

10. Amend Section 270

"... provides that a person may, by will executed at least 180 days before death, bequeath or devise all or any portion of his estate to a charitable, religious, educational, or civil institution, subject to exceptions as may be prescribed by law. The amendment also increases the maximum period of time which a charitable, religious, educational, or civil institution may legally hold certain interests in land devised to it."

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

By Bill Minor
JACKSON—With Sen. John Stennis' retirement, the state next year could have a Senate race that will be a classic test on how Mississippians feel about Reaganomics and the so-called "Reagan Revolution."

That confrontation could come in a long-awaited matchup for the Senate seat between two Mississippi Congressmen, Democrat Wayne Dowdy and Republican Trent Lott, who represent sharply different views on the policies of President Reagan.

Dowdy, the Fourth District Congressman who has opposed the Reagan economic program, wasted no time making it official last week that he is running for the seat being vacated by Stennis. That's something he has been saying for the past three years he would do whenever the opportunity arose.

Lott, the conservative Fifth District Congressman and devoted Reaganite, made no immediate move to get into the Senate race. Although Lott has his role as a GOP Congressional leader to consider, it seems unlikely he can resist the lure of the Senate job he has been eyeing for sometime.

Dowdy made it abundantly clear in his formal announcement that he expects to be facing Lott in next year's general election, and that the main issues would be how each has voted in the Congress. Dowdy seemed to be delighted with that prospect.

Both, however, will likely have to deal with some rather formidable foes in order to get their own party's nomination and face each other in November, 1988.

Secretary of State Dick Mopus, a popular young comer in state politics, who has close ties to Democratic gubernatorial hopeful Ray Mabus, is already planning his campaign to challenge Dowdy on the Democratic side. Mopus however, won't announce until his re-election to his present post is made official on Nov. 3.

Lott may have to beat Yazoo City attorney Haley Barbour, the Republican standard-bearer against Stennis in 1982, in order to get the GOP nomination. Barbour, a former White House Congressional liaison, for months has been saying he would again run for the Senate, regardless of who else may be in the race.

The interesting possibility of Barbour facing Lott in a GOP Senatorial primary is that it could bring out into the open the long-simmering feud between Lott and Sen. Thad Cochran, since Barbour is identified with the Cochran wing of the Mississippi GOP.

In the meantime, Barbour is actively helping Jack Reed, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, and won't make a final decision until after the governor's race is over.

Dowdy's early entry in the race gives him a big jump in the field, especially in fund-raising. That could be to crucial in an expected tough struggle to raise money for the Senate race, coming on the heels of a long gubernatorial derby into which some $8 million has been poured.

When Dowdy won his house seat in 1981, it was in a major upset over Liles Williams, the GOP candidate who was strongly backed by President Reagan. Dowdy's narrow 900-vote victory was credited to tough campaigning and his ability to attract black votes.

Then, after voting against Reagan's tax cuts and economic program Dowdy won re-election by a wide margin in 1982 and has been untouchable ever since in a district once thought "safe" for a Republican.

Privately, Mopus is saying that Dowdy's name recognition and political base is limited only to one area of the state, while his base is much broader and he is better known throughout the state.

It's evident now that Mopus geared up earlier this year for a campaign much bigger than his race against several unknowns for the secretary of state's office, on the chance that Stennis might not run for re-election.

Mopus has already engaged Hickman-Maslin, the pollster used by Mabus in the gubernatorial campaign, to work for him in the Senate race.

If Mabus wins the governor's office, as most observers expect, the question remains as to which way the close ties between Mabus and Mopus may cut in the Senatorial race next March.

All around, we're in for a fascinating political experience in naming the successor to John Stennis.

Proponents of the unit system need only point to the cost of an oil filter to prove the point.

A study of Neshoba County showed that the average cost of an oil filter under the beat system was $5.05. Under the unit system, it's 2.35.

Don Kilgore, attorney for Neshoba County, reported to a Mississippi Economic Council committee Monday that the cost savings involved in implementation of the unit system resulted in an unusual event—a property tax decrease.

As this tax decrease went into effect, sister counties were implementing hefty tax increases to make up for the loss of revenue-sharing dollars, the attorney said.

Kilgore said Neshoba County was "flat broke" in 1980 when county officials began to look at the unit system. Along with the financial headaches, the equipment was dilapidated and the roads were in bad condition, he said.

Under the unit system, the county has saved more than $400,000, the Neshoba County study indicated, representing a savings of 38.1 percent.

The MEC, the state's largest group of business, professional and industrial members, is a long-time supporter of the unit system. The group is stepping up its efforts to get a mandatory county unit bill passed in 1988.

Quotables by CUEVAS

It is fair time in Hancock County from November 3 through 8, at the Fairgrounds on Longfellow Road.

A lot of preparations have gone into the County Fair by Fair and Livestock Association members as well as many others.

The fair is an event which has participation from residents of all ages and is entertaining to people of all ages.

There is no admission for the many types of entertainment provided.

Lee Taylor, county agent, reports the livestock show has been expanded with six counties being invited to participate.

This will mean a much larger selection of animals and barnyard fowl.

Livestock judging is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, and this can be a time for us 'city folks' to see our county's 4-H organization in action.

The Bay-Waveland and Diamondhead garden clubs are both participating in a horticulture section for both adults and youth at the fair.

The Exhibit Hall will be open to the public on Thursday, 3 to 10 p.m.; Friday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 1 to 10 p.m.; and Sunday 1 to 4 p.m.

Entertainment is scheduled for Wednesday, 8 p.m.; Friday, 7:30 p.m.; Saturday, 2 p.m., 5 p.m., and 7 p.m.; and Sunday, 1:30 p.m., and 3 p.m.

We know the county agent, county extension service, and 4-H agent are all hoping for a big turnout.

It is hoped that every resident of the county will try and visit the fair at least one time during next week.

We hope you win a lot of blue ribbons.

Next Saturday, many volunteers will be participating in a WalkAmerica ten kilometer walk in Hancock County for the March of Dimes.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson is chairman for the local WalkAmerica.

We also know that Libby Milner and Betsy Ashman have been working very hard in order to raise a large contribution for the March of Dimes.

The walk will begin with registration at 8 a.m. with the walk starting at 9 a.m. on Nov. 7.

The Bay St. Louis bridge will be the beginning point with Buccaneer State Park the end. There will be pickups available for those unable to complete the distance.

Every walker who turns in $50 will receive a WalkAmerica T-shirt and there will be several other prizes.

Remember, the March of Dimes has been fighting birth defects for years.

For further information contact Milner at 467-9048 or Ashman at 467-5496.

The Scouts of Troop 217 are riding high after a terrific feature story with photos in the November-December 1987 Scouting magazine.

We know Scoutmaster Roy Masson and his assistants are really proud of the Scouts and the 2,000 mile trip which included a stop at North Carolina's Nantahala National Forest Group Campground.

From the expressions of the photos in the magazine, the boys sure had a good time.

United States Senator

Thad Cochran

Senators boost funding for special nutrition program

Senator Thad Cochran says he hopes the Senate will act soon on an appropriations bill containing an additional $141 million for a special nutrition program for women, infants and children.

The Senator said the funding for the special supplemental food program, better known as the WIC program, is the Department of Agriculture appropriations bill for 1988.

He pointed out that in the Appropriations Committee, "With the help of the Chairman, Senator John Stennis, we were able to sponsor an amendment increasing the FY 1988 funding level."

The result, he said, is that under the Senate committee bill now awaiting floor action, WIC funding for next year would be $141 million over FY 1987.

"This is an important program for the state of Mississippi, and you may be sure that I shall continue my efforts to see that this program is funded at adequate levels in the future," Senator Cochran commented.

Nationally, about 3.5 million persons participate in the WIC program, with almost 100,000 of these in Mississippi.

"This is a program that helps provide needed nutrition assistance to poor women, infants and children and it pays dividends in reduced medical and health care costs," Senator Cochran concluded.

The full Senate is expected to act on the USDA bill including the WIC funding this fall. The measure would then go to a House-Senate conference committee.

Waveland Legionnaires honor Galivan for civic contribution

John Leslie Galivan of Waveland was named "Hancock County Citizen of the year" by Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray Post 77, The American Legion, Waveland, at the post's annual awards ceremonies recently at the post home on Coleman Avenue.

According to Post 77 Awards Chairman Erby Cazaubon, the purpose of the ceremonies is to recognize citizens of Hancock County who have performed outstanding civic and volunteer duties for the betterment of the area and the post and to announce the recipient of the Hancock County Citizen of the Year Award.

The winner is selected from the resumes submitted by many county civic organizations.

Galivan received the award for 1987 from assistant awards chairman Jack Hasling for a long list of civic accomplishments in Waveland and Bay St. Louis.

He has been an active member of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program for 14 years and as one of the first volunteers to deliver "Meals on Wheels" to shut-ins in the community, a service he still performs.

For some seniors he is the only means of transportation, and he often drives them to their doctors, the hospital or the grocery.

Many times he has helped supply part of the food for the RSVP annual recognition luncheon.

For his outstanding work with the RSVP, Galivan was nominated for the Governor's Volunteer Service Award in 1983 and received a certificate from Governor John F. Winter at ceremonies in Jackson.

Galivan is an active member of the Hancock County Chapter of American Association of Retired Persons, which he is serving as second vice president for the second consecutive term.

For his service to the area, that organization selected him Volunteer of the Year for 1987.

He is a member of St. Clare's Catholic Church where he serves as an usher and is one of the regular volunteer workers on the annual St. Clare's Fair.

Les is one of the most active members of the Waveland Civic Association, having served as president for one term and as vice president for three terms.

Since 1976, the year in which that organization began working with the Muscular Dystrophy Association's Labor Day Week-end Telethon, he has been instrumental in making the Hancock-western Harrison County fund raiser one of the most successful in the state.

He is chairman of the ads committee which sells newspaper ads to help defray the costs of the telethon and the annual Labor Day fireworks display.

He also serves on the steering, doubleton and nominating committees, and works numerous hours building and decorating floats and helping to organize the St. Patrick's Day Parade.

In recognition of his service to the Waveland Civic Association, Les was honored by being selected Grand Marshal of the St. Patrick's ceremonies in 1978.

Galivan is also active in Senior Citizens of Waveland and the Krew of SCOWI (Senior Citizens Of Waveland, Inc.).

Les and his wife, Cecile, purchased their present home in 1944 but were "week-enders" from New Orleans until they became permanent citizens of Waveland in 1970.

While a resident of New Orleans, his most notable volunteer activities were with the Commercial Athletic Association of New Orleans.

He served on the basketball committee in 1945 and 1946, was named chairman for the sport in 1947 and held that position until 1965. He was a member of the CAA executive board for 16 years.

In 1964, he was named the first recipient of the Commercial Athletic Association-President's Award for outstanding service, and in 1969 was inducted into the CAA Hall of Fame.

Three members of the Waveland Police Department were recognized for special off duty volunteer activities working with and raising funds for children's programs, especially the Mississippi Special Olympics Program and youth drug abuse programs.

Receiving certificates of appreciation from Post 77 Commander L.D. "Danny" Carter were officers Lamar C. Jones Jr., Michael A. Prendergast and David W. Stepro.

Carter also presented certificates of appreciation for special services to Post 77 to post members Joe Levy, Owen McArdle and John Perkins.

Auxiliary Unit 77 President Janice Carver presented awards for outstanding volunteer work for Unit 77 to Elie "Buddy" Williams, Shirley Williams, Mickie Revere and Shirley Cox.

Special awards from Chaplain George Wilhelm were presented by Adjutant Floyd Breaux to Alvin J. Ladner for special duties performed for the chaplain, and to Anna Luhrsens Sauerfeld and Ellen Luhrsens Aas, daughters of the late Sue Luhrsens who was a member of Post 77, for the donation of medical equipment to the post.

Opening and closing prayers were given by Warren Norton and Mary Caillier.

NAACP Education Committee, parents plan school/student support group

BY EDGAR PEREZ

The Educational Committee of Hancock County Branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and some 30 parents and interested citizens will conduct an organizational meeting 7 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 4 at Valena C. Jones Cafeteria on Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis.

Committee chairman Geraldine

Lang, said purpose of the new organization will be to motivate children toward scholastic achievement and in the practice of the principles of good citizenship.

The new organization, which will elect officers Wednesday, also plans to work with teachers and administrators in local schools in areas of mutual interest concerning the well being of students.

"The public and any interested parent or citizen is invited to this organizational meeting which will be open to the public," Lang added.

Unemployment rate

JACKSON—The September jobless rate for Mississippi fell to 8.9 percent, according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director, Thomas H. Dyson. This rate was nine tenths percentage point below one month ago, when the rate stood at 9.8 percent. This was 2.2 percentage points below the 11.1 percent report Sept. 1986. Seasonal increases in both agricultural and nonagricultural employment combined to produce the best report this year.

Place of residence employment for September stood at 1,072,800 in a labor force of 1,178,100. There were 26,600 more people employed in September than last month and 22,300 more than September 1986.

Manufacturing establishments provided 227,000 jobs, the highest level since the 227,500 were reported in February and March 1980. Non-manufacturing businesses provided 647,900 jobs in August. Manufacturing jobs increased, dramatically, 2,000 from one month ago and 3,300 from September 1986. Nonmanufacturing provided 19,500 more jobs this month than last month and 14,900 more than last year. This monthly employment of 647,900 represents the largest number of jobs ever supported by nonmanufacturing industries. Wholesale and retail trade continued at high levels and school personnel returned to their jobs to partially cause this record.

There were 85,458 claims filed in September 1987 as compared to 103,890 during August and 127,622 one year ago. There were 10,387 job openings received in September compared to 10,550 last month and 9,115 one year ago. Of those received 8,595, 8,350 and 8,009 were filled by local Employment Service Offices.

EDUCATION:

He attended St. Rose De Lima, Bay St. Louis, and Xavier Prep in New Orleans. He earned his B.A. from Xavier University in Louisiana. He received his law degree from Lincoln University Law School in Missouri.

Would you ask even the best seamstress to be your family surgeon? Would you ask a master plumber to be the principal of our high school? Should we then ask anyone but a qualified person to be a judge for our county?

The training of a lawyer is the result of 19 years of formal education before taking the Bar Examination, and still some fail the examination.

Every judge should be trained in legal matters. He should be professional. Citizens required to appear before a court of law deserve no less. The court system of the county deserves the best legal minds available to render an immediate just and fair judgement. It is less expensive for the individual and the county than an appeal process due to ignorance of the law of legal process.

I have been involved with cases all over the country helping other people. I am now back home and want to serve the people of Hancock County. Do you want me? Are you ready?...I am.

Hawks pounce on local rival, defeat Bay High

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock North Central Hawks mended a broken chain of wins Friday, defeating local rival Bay High 35 to 8.

The Hawks came back from last week's defeat by George County to pounce on their city counterparts in a game that gave Hancock North Central a morale booster to ready the players for next week's game, in which the Hawks host D'Iberville.

"I was real proud of the kids and the way they played tonight," Hancock Head Coach Irvin Favre said after the game. "They played an outstanding football game."

"I thought we threw real well, ran real well, and played good defense. I have a lot of respect for Bay High's ballclub."

"Now we have to start looking forward to D'Iberville. It's going to be a big game next week."

Favre said that the Hawks, if they can beat the Warriors, will have the home field advantage for their first post-season play-off game, because the winner next Friday will be allowed to host.

"I would love to have it right here, and we've got a good shot at it. We put our program back on the line this week."

Hancock North Central, which has been quick to score the first points in several games this season, continued that tendency by scoring on first possession.

The Tigers had taken the kick-off and had been stopped on the first drive of the night when Guy Graham stopped a Tiger ballcarrier on the Bay 38 yard line.

On the first play of the Hawks' first possession, Donald Vince ran the ball in for a touchdown and the first six points of the night.

A PAT kick missed and the Hawks led 6-0 with 9:07 left in the first quarter.

The Tigers had to punt the ball back to Hancock on their next possession, then got it back by recovering a fumble on their own eight yard line.

After a drive that took Bay High to the Hawk 23 and ended with a missed field goal, the ball was turned back over to the Hawks and the home team scored again.

Hancock used a combination of ground and airborne plays to take the ball to the Tiger three, where Vince ran it in with 9:29 to go in the second quarter.

Vincent Cuevas added a two-point conversion on a running play to give Hancock an even 14-0 lead.

About six minutes further into play, Quarterback Jeff Moran dropped back to pass to Henry Smith for a touchdown and 26 yards.

Larry Beech added a PAT kick to increase the Hancock lead to 21-0.

The Tigers rallied on the next series. With a second down and three on their own 32, Bay High Quarterback Chad LaFontaine dropped back slightly and threw a long bomb to Darrair Washington for a touchdown.

LaFontaine's pass and the receiver's run totalled 68 yards and gave Bay High its first six points with 2:19 in the first half.

Bay High ran a two-point conversion to narrow the Hawks' lead to 21-8.

Coming back into the second half ready for action, the Hawks scored on a short yardage quarterback keeper by Jeff Moran.

Beech provided an extra point on a kick and the Hawks led 28-8.

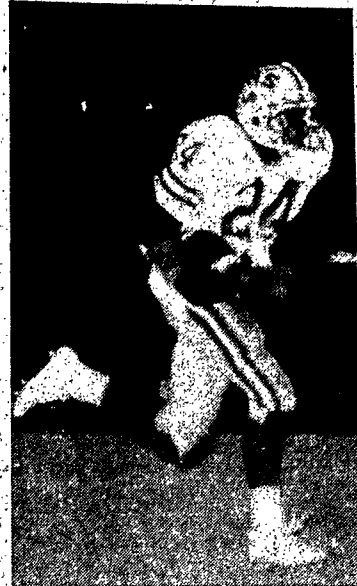

Brian Myers ran 25 yards for the last touchdown for the Hawks. Beech added a PAT kick to post a final score of 35-8.

Next week, the Tigers, with a 6-2 record, take on another local rival, St. Stanislaus.

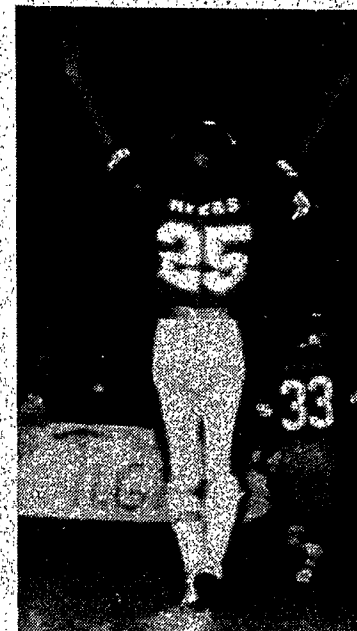

FIGHTING IT OUT—Hawk Vincent Cuevas, 35, struggles with Tiger Rickey Whavers during action from Friday night's county rivalry game. The Hawks beat the Lady golfers finish season at Dothan

UNIVERSITY—The Lady Rebel golf squad heads into its final match of the 1987 Fall season this weekend at Dothan, Ala., in the Tiger-Tide Intercollegiate.

At least 18 teams are playing in the 54-hole tournament at Olympia Spa Golf Resort. The 5,939-yard course plays a par-73 for the ladies.

Ole Miss is coming off its best tournament of the fall with a 1,012 finish at the Lady Kat Invitational at Lexington, Ky. The season has been a learning and playing experience for the young Lady Rebels.

"We got better in our last tournament," said coach Beth Estes. "We like to see progress in each tournament. We are looking for fairly steady play this week."

"I feel the girls are fired up and look to make good scores. More than anything, we want to try to play as a team and get our low rounds at the same time."

Junior Veronica McFadden is playing the number one spot. The remainder of the travel squad consists of freshman due to the illness of junior Jane Hawkins, who did not make the trip.

Becky Hayes, Keil Frassrand and Stephanie Gentry are playing the number two through four spots, respectively. At number five will be Amy Naplitano, who is playing in her first collegiate tournament.

To name just a few: Murphy Oil Refinery, Mereaux, La. $1.1 million; Alabo Street Wharf, N.O., La. $10.1 million; Peacelake Towers Rest Home for the Elderly, six floors $5.6 million; 23-floor Holiday Inn Crown Plaza Hotel, N.O., La. $19.3 million; The Mississippi Areal River Transit (M.A.R.T.) Terminals at the World Fair, $5.0 million; Jax Brewhouse Phase 11A N.O., La. $6.4 million. By using my EDUCATION AND PRACTICAL WORK EXPERIENCE, I have the ability to speak intellectually on behalf of DISTRICT ONE RESIDENTS, with architects and engineers in their own language. I can interpret contracts and read blue print drawings to insure that we, the taxpayers, have our interests protected.

As your Supervisor, I will work on our ongoing drainage correction plan and immediately begin a program to hard surface (black top) roads throughout District One to include BAYSIDE PARK, HERRON BAY ESTATES, SPRINGWOOD, etc...Not so many years ago Lower Bay Road was a dirt road and a constant drain on the Road and Bridge Fund. I believe that capital improvements are far superior to maintaining decade-old problems. Who knows how much money has been saved since these roads were blacktopped. Of primary concern is the blacktopping of all school bus routes and all hurricane evacuation routes.

Of equal concern are the volunteer firemen and their departments. I know these people personally and have attended their meetings and have seen their problems first hand. These brave individuals will have my total support. I've also studied the Master Plan for the Beach and spoke to several of the committee members assuring them of my fullest cooperation.

"WHEN DID YOUR LAST DECISION REALLY MATTER?" Come out to vote November 3 for JIMMY THORNTON, a man who cares about DISTRICT ONE.

I am concerned about the unemployment rate in Hancock County and will work with NSTL and industries in promoting local employment.

Homecoming Rocks drop Pirates 27-6

The St. Stanislaus Rockachaws delighted a stadium full of homecoming fans as they wore down the visiting Pass Christian Pirates, 27-6.

In improving their season record to 5-4, Coach Ken Lyons' Rockachaws gained over 300 yards in total offense.

Tailback Yasin Shabazz scored twice for the Rocks, with touchdown runs of 30 and 17 yards.

For the Pirates, Derrick Benoit accounted for Pass Christian's points with a 1-yard run following a nice 57-yard breakaway scamper on the preceding play.

The other Rockachaw points were provided by Freddie Wirstrom who caught a 34-yard aerial from quarterback Cedric Smith, and Jorge Ponjuan who blasted over from the one yard line in the fourth quarter.

Both squads appeared sluggish early in the contest, and although the Rocks enjoyed good field position most of the night, it was the Pirates who scored first.

Pass High was backed up deep in their territory, and quarterback Horace Lizana tried to get his team moving by running the option and sweeping around end.

Junior running back Derrick Benoit took Lizana's handoff and broke through the line of scrimmage, cut back against his pursuit, and turned on the speed.

Defensive cornerback Andre Rollins finally caught up with the fleet-footed halfback at the SSC 3-yard line.

Benoit scored over right guard on the next play, and with 47 seconds gone in the second quarter Pass High enjoyed a 6-0 lead.

This score seemed to shake the Rockachaws back into reality and away from all the distractions associated with homecoming festivities.

Ron Engel returned the ensuing kickoff to the SSC 40 yard line, and the Rocks went to work.

Shabazz got good yardage on two consecutive carries. Smith then unloaded a bomb to split end Freddie Wirstrom who positioned himself nicely between the Pirate defender and the ball.

Wirstrom was brought down on the Pirate 4-yard line. Shabazz leaped over the line for the first Rockachaw score of the evening with a little under seven minutes to go in the first half.

Reliable Mike Vegas booted the extra point and SSC led, 7-6.

Benoit returned Vegas' kickoff to his 30 yard line, but the Pirates were unable to mount an offensive drive and had to punt to the Rockachaws.

SSC took over on their 47-yard line, once again enjoying great field position.

Ponjuan ran wide, but Sammy Taylor of the Pirates kept the SSC running back from making a substantial gain.

Two plays later Smith executed a nice play-action fake into the line, and found Wirstrom behind his coverage for a 42-yard touchdown with 1:03 left in the first half.

The extra point snap was bobbled, and the score stood 13-6 in favor of St. Stanislaus.

Vegas boomed the kickoff into the endzone, and the Pirates went to their shotgun formation to try to get something established.

Three incomplete passes later the Pirates had to punt. The Rocks took over with 38 seconds left in the first half, and ran out the clock.

The turning point in the game occurred early in the third quarter. Eric Dawkins of the Pirates returned the second half kickoff to his 37-yard line. On the second play from scrimmage, a mishandled center-quarterback exchange resulted in a costly turnover.

Linebacker Jim Bradley of the Rockachaws recovered the fumble on the Pass High 39-yard line.

Coach Ken Lyons used Shabazz, Ponjuan, and Gino Ascani to bang away at the Pirate defense.

The SSC offensive line, led by Steve Cuevas, Chuck Lavinghouse, Charlie Beech and Shane Sigsworth, began to establish their dominance at the line of scrimmage.

Because Pass High Coach Alton Wright lacked depth on his team, most of the Pirates on the field had played every down on the offensive, defensive, and specialty teams.

The Rocks wasted little time in taking advantage of the situation as Shabazz ripped off right tackle and cut back sharply on his way to a 30-yard touchdown run.

The Rocks went for the two-point conversion, but were not successful and their lead stood at 19-6.

The Pirates then mounted their best offensive drive of the evening. Benoit returned the kickoff to his 35-yard line, and the Pirates began to gather first downs due to the hard running of Lizana and Benoit.

Pass High's drive stalled at the Rockachaw 35-yard line, and SSC took over possession with 9 minutes left in the contest.

Smith completed a sideline pass to Wirstrom, Ascani had two nice runs, and eight plays later Ponjuan blasted over left guard for the fourth Rockachaw touchdown of the evening.

Shabazz added the two point conversion to increase the Rockachaw lead to 27-6 with 7 minutes remaining in the contest.

Vegas' kickoff was fielded by way that they have handled a great deal of adversity this season with class and sportsmanship.

Rockachaw mentor Ken Lyons and his assistants Jerry Spell, Larry Ramsey, and Eddie Burgo have done an outstanding job in making the Rocks a competitive football team.

The stage is set for what should be a classic confrontation next Friday between SSC and the Bay High Tigers.

Both squads have had their ups and downs this year, and are gifted with fine athletes and good senior leadership.

The SSC-Bay High game will be played at Tiger Stadium, with the opening kickoff set for 7:30 p.m.

Lizana, who was brought down at his 42-yard line by Rocky Rhodes.

Good defensive pressure was applied all night by Rockachaw linemen Shane Harris and Craig Sweeney, with help from linebackers Jim Bradley and Gino Ascani.

Pass Christian showed a lot of pride and determination with another drive that netted a couple of first downs.

Shane Praetorius of the Rocks intercepted Lizana's pass late in the game to preserve the victory for the Rockachaws.

Meriting praise for their defensive efforts were Mervin Janet, Shawn Bainsford and Greg Moffett of the Pirates.

Coach Ken Lyons of the Rockachaws indicated that he was pleased with the efforts of his entire squad, and mentioned in his post-game comments to his team the importance of ending the season next week on a winning note.

The Pirates fell to 0-9, but have an excellent chance of defeating a struggling Long Beach team next week.

Coach Wright, his assistants Joseph Brown and Tim Bryant, and the entire Pass Christian squad are to be commended for the positive

Rebel harries to compete in conference

UNIVERSITY—The Ole Miss cross country teams will travel to Nashville, Tenn. on Nov. 2 to compete in the Southeastern Conference Championships, hosted by Vanderbilt University.

The Rebels are coming off a sixth place finish in their own invitational, held on Oct. 23.

Phillip Dolron led the Rebels with a 21st place finish in 25:47 over the five mile course and Mark Hadley came in 23rd with a 25:49 time.

Arkansas State won the Ole Miss Invitational as Curtis Aaron finished first with a time of 24:41.

The Lady Rebels finished third behind Murray State and Mississippi State as Murray's Jackie Murzynowski took individual honors with a time of 18:24 over the three-mile course.

TOUCHDOWN PASS—Rockachaw Freddie Wirstrom jumps to make a pass reception that resulted in one of the St. Stanislaus touchdowns during Friday night's homecoming ballgame against Pass Christian. Former Bay Senior High basketball coach honored

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Former Bay High basketball coach Willie Bradley was recently honored in a reception for his many accomplishments as a coach, teacher and community leader.

According to Bay High Principal Frank Ladner, Bradley needed a basket to carry home all his plaques and gifts.

Among the dignitaries attending the reception were Leonard Cain of the State Department of Education and Doug Martin, state superintendent of transportation.

Presenting plaques to Bradley were Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor J. Frankiewicz; Bay-Waveland School District Superintendent Roger Oge; Calvin Smith of the Krewe of Real People; the Rev. Arthur Lewis Jr. of the Valena C. Jones Memorial Church; and Charles Joseph of the St. Rose Parish Council.

The reception was hosted by the Bay Senior High National Honor Society.

Bradley offers thanks to the people of Bay St. Louis for their contributions to his success and a also thanks to the many athletes he coached.

He expressed his appreciation to the school systems for the "many years of cooperation in my endeavors."

Special thanks to Frank Ladner, Patricia Clairborne and Joan Thomas for the excellent retirement reception, Bradley said.

Bradley is a past state president of the Mississippi Driver and Traffic Education Association and was the 1980 star teacher for this association.

He served as an American Red Cross instructor for 17 years.

For the past six years Bradley has been a bus driver instructor for the State Department of Education and continues to serve in that capacity.

In the community, Bradley has logged 17 years with the Bay St. Louis housing authority and is the present chairman for this organization.

Bradley is a U.S. Army veteran and served as a military policeman. He and his wife, Ann have two children, Sharon and Derek.

Bradley received his bachelor's of science degree from Xavier University and a masters' degree and AAA certificate from the University of Southern Mississippi.

Although Bradley's latest coaching position was in basketball, he has a lengthy career as a coach for a variety of sports including football and track.

In football, Bradley was the head coach at Valena C. Jones for nine years where he had a total of 61 wins and 37 losses.

Also during this time he was selected conference coach of the year for two years.

Including coaching time at VCJ and Bay High, Bradley was a girls' track team head coach for 27 years.

During this time teams coached by Bradley won 19 conference championships and 14 district championships.

At VCJ he also served as head coach for the boys' track for nine years. Honors while coaching these teams included eight conference championships and eight district championships.

The girls' and boys' teams he coached have won 93 invitational track meets.

Bradley was selected as the boys'

Former Coach Willie Bradley, left, is presented plaque by Bay High Principal Frank Ladner conference coach of the year seven years and 14 years as girls' conference coach.

Highpoints of a shining career as a high school basketball coach include being selected as South-State All-Star girls' basketball coach in 1984.

He was also named basketball girls' conference coach of the year eight times out of 27 years of coaching.

Bradley was conference coach of the year four times in nine years as head coach boys' basketball.

In the 27 years as a girls' basketball coach, Bradley had a won-loss record of 514 wins and 212 losses.

While coaching boys, Bradley had 189 wins and 69 losses in nine years, for a combined girls' and boys' record of 703 wins and 281 losses.

Also during this time his teams won a total of 67 invitational tournaments.

Girls' basketball teams coached by Bradley won eight conference championships and five district titles.

The boys' basketball team won four conference championships and four in the district.

Rebel hoopsters perform well

The Ole Miss men's basketball squad has drawn raves so far in practice from head coach Ed Murphy and his staff.

The squad had their first intra-squad scrimmage on Sat., Oct. 24 at the Tad Smith Coliseum. The Red squad, consisting of most of the front-line players, defeated the White squad, 56-51 behind 17 points from senior Charles Prater and ten from senior Roderick Barnes.

Gerald Glass led the White team with 18 points and seven rebounds. David Midlick had 12 points and Troy Garrett added 10 for the White squad.

"Despite the youth of our squad, they have really taken to our system," said Murphy. "They are learning our system and practicing real well. They are just a great bunch of kids and I am happy with their progress."

The Rebels will split up for an intra-squad scrimmage on Thursday, Nov. 5 at W.F. Daniel High School in New Albany, beginning at 7 p.m. The team will have another intra-squad scrimmage on Monday, Nov. 9 at Grenada High School, starting at 7 p.m.

Murphy's squad opens the season on Nov. 27 in the MCI Baltimore Harbor Classic against St. Joseph's (Pa.) at 5 p.m. CST.

Football Brief

IMPRESSIVE NUMBERS

HATTIESBURG—University of Southern Mississippi coach Jim Carmody continues to show impressive numbers against Golden Eagle opponents.

He is 4-0 against rival "Big 3" coaches in the state, 2-0 against Ole Miss coach Billy Brewer and 2-0 against Rocky Felker at Mississippi State.

Currently in his sixth season as head coach, Carmody's teams have five opponents who have been on the schedule all six seasons. He is 3-3 against Tulane, 6-0 against Louisville, 5-1 against Memphis State, 4-2 against Mississippi State and 4-1 against Southwestern Louisiana with the '87 game between the two still ahead.

Carmody is 22-7 against the five for an impressive .759 winning percentage.

The Eagles missed 1982 with East Carolina but are 3-1 against the Pirates under Carmody (with the '87 game still ahead) and those numbers bring Carmody's total to 25-8, a .758 percentage.

Bellingrath Gardens in Theodore, Ala. was the setting for the October 17 marriage of Elizabeth Charlene Watford of Mobile and Marvin Yon Boyd of Valdosta, Ga. Dr. Charles E. Brown officiated at the double ring afternoon ceremony at the south terrace of the gardens.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Watford of Grand Bay, Ala. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Boyd of Bay St. Louis. Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Melba Brown, soloist, and Russ Laired, accompanying sound productions, both of Mobile.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin tea length gown, fashioned with fitted bodice adorned with iridescents and accented with a large bow. Her bridal portrait hat was adorned with iridescents. She carried a traditional bouquet of peach and white carnations, miniature peach roses and baby's breath with peach and teal satin streamers.

Mrs. Kathryn L. Moss of Bradenton, Fla., was matron of honor.

Cherry Rowell of Mobile was bridesmaid and Shauna L. Wells of Bradenton, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Flower girls were Candace Lee

Milan of Theodore and Wendy Marie McLoain of Mobile, nieces of the bride.

The attendants were attired in tea length gowns of peach taffeta and teal taffeta, respectively. They carried fans adorned with peach roses and teal and peach satin ribbons, and wore hair ornaments of baby's breath and peach roses.

Elmer E. Boyd of Bay St. Louis served his son as best man.

Groomsmen were Antoine J. Boyd and Omer Boyd of Bay St. Louis, brothers of the groom.

Christopher McClain of Mobile, Ala. was ring bearer.

Mrs. Watford chose for her daughter's wedding a two piece teal suit with matching accessories. Mrs. Boyd was attired in a periwinkle blue suit with matching accessories.

A reception followed the ceremony at Palmer's Restaurant in Theodore.

Assisting at the reception were Angie R. Wells of Bradenton and Deborah A. Woodbridge of Theodore, sisters of the bride.

On return from a wedding trip to Walt Disney World and a cruise to the Bahama Islands, the couple resides in Valdosta, Ga.

MRS. MARVIN YON BOYD

Truett-Bruce

Mrs. Felix Erwin Truett Jr. of Bay St. Louis announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Susan Clare Truett to Mr. William Kirkland Bruce Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kirkland Bruce of Houston, Tex. The bride-elect is also the daughter of the late Mr. Truett.

The wedding will be held in early December at the Chapel of Christ Church Cathedral in New Orleans. The Very Reverend David B. Lowry will be officiating the ceremony. A reception will follow at the Women's Guild Home of the New Orleans Opera Association.

Miss Truett, whose mother is the former Miss Suzanne Anthony Snider, was graduated from Coast Episcopal High School in Pass Christian and Loyola University where she was a member of Phi Alpha Theta honorary fraternity.

She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Robinson Snider of Bay St. Louis and the late Mr. and Mrs. Felix Erwin Truett of New Orleans.

Mr. Bruce, whose mother was before her marriage Miss Maria Anne Morgan of LaGrange, Texas, was graduated from Kinkaid High School in Houston. Mr. Bruce attended the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn. where he was member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and was graduated from the University of Houston.

He is the grandson of Mrs. George Stubblefield of Houston and the late Mr. Bruce, and the late Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Morgan of LaGrange.

Following a wedding trip to Barbados, the couple will reside in Houston.

Diamondhead Garden Club

The October meeting of the Diamondhead Garden Club was held Oct. 21 at the Diamondhead Community Center with Mrs. Strabo Claggett presiding. Following the opening prayer and Pledge of Allegiance guests were introduced. The president thanked the hostesses Mrs. Vincent Almerica and Mrs. William Calhoun.

The president announced that the club won six awards at the district meeting held recently in Piacuene.

At the request of the board Mrs. William Neff has obtained information and scheduled a field trip to the Honey Island Swamp for Nov. 11. The trip will be repeated in the spring for those who cannot make it this time.

Mrs. Jan Braemeyer reported on the flower show to be held in conjunction with Bay-Waveland Garden Club on Nov. 4 through 8 at the county fair. She requested that all horticulture entry cards be filled out in advance. The botanical name of the specimen must be included and is the responsibility of the club member. Bertha Morris will assist anyone who has difficulty in finding the botanical name of their entry.

Mrs. H. D. Bustetter, horticulture chairman, reviewed the rules for entry in the division, and we were reminded that all members must have at least one entry in horticulture.

Mrs. E. J. Mittelbron, design chairman, announced that we still need five additional entries in the design division. The entries were volunteered by members.

Mrs. Herman Zeringue gave the garden tips of the month. She reminded the members that it is very important to continue to water at this time of the year, especially since we have had so little rain. Use all the newly fallen pine needles to mulch your plantings. Now is the time to dig and divide the summer perennials, and plant your spring bulbs. She also reminded us that the houseplants that have been outside all summer need to be prepared for the move into the house for the winter.

Mrs. Russell Papania, owner of Nosegay Florist, in Metairie, demonstrated some of the techniques of the new "High Tech" style of flower arranging. The exquisite four-foot tall arrangement was won by Mrs. Robert Eddy. Mr. Papania also gave some basic do's and don'ts for doorway decorating while decorating a country grapevine wreath.

Crafty Homemakers' Extension Club

On Monday, Oct. 26 the Crafty Homemakers' Extension club met for their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ethel Mae Fillingame. Mrs. Minnie Geiger, president, opened the meeting and followed by the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. Fillingame read a devotional which was on "Happiness" and how much it means to each individual, the various ways you can feel and express happiness.

Mrs. Roslyn Weathers, secretary-treasurer, then read the minutes of the previous meeting and gave the treasurer's report. Plans were made concerning the booth at the County Fair and what each member was to display. The meeting was adjourned so that the members could work on the Christmas project. After this was done the members were invited to have lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Fillingame.

IS STORAGE A PROBLEM?
Storage is a problem in most homes today. There just never seems to be enough space to store all the possessions of the family. Current building trends provide little planning for household storage.
"A place for everything and everything in its place" is an old proverb which has even more meaning today. Fitting items that a family has to store into available space can be like fitting together pieces of a jigsaw puzzle. Storing items where they will be first used is the beginning step in the storage puzzle. When this principle is applied one will remember to return items to that space after use.
Neatness and order are benefits of good storage habits. There will be much less confusion and frustration and less time and effort spent in needless search for items. Money will not be wasted for purchasing of items you already have stored in disorganized or hard to see places. Visualize the storage needs within your home. You may want to take an inventory of items to be stored according to activities in the areas where the items are used. Think about the storage spaces you presently have in your home. Analyze your needs using the following guidelines.

Sort and discard items no longer of use or value. When was the last time the item was used? If your answer is a year or more, then discard it. If it is difficult to discard, then ask yourself, Why do I keep the item? Is it for sentimental reasons or does it have value as an antique?
If the answer is yes, answer the following: Will this have value in the future? Can I use it now or later without repair? If the answer is no, then discard it. If it is of sentimental value or you cannot discard it, then store it in a less accessible space. Store items where they are first used. Items are easy to find and replace if stored where they are used first. If you find yourself hunting for an item, think of where it is used most of the time. It will always be easier to replace after use if you follow this guideline.

Store like items together. Stacking like items together makes it easy to grasp the one on top without having to move or lift unlike objects to reach the one desired. You will have less dish breakage and accidents as well as frustration and time wasted.
Store together items used together. Think about the task and items used in doing the activity. Tasks will be done more quickly if items are replaced where they are used together first. They are always in place ready for the next time. For example, letter writing, bill paying and record keeping are more likely to get done and in less time if items are stored together.

Such items as a typewriter, paper, envelopes, pens, stamps and calculator should be stored together in a writing area and near the telephone. Clothes and grooming tools stored near the bathroom make dressing quicker and easier.
Store basic supplies in places most convenient to reach. Extra energy is spent reaching to either high or low shelves. The storage most convenient to reach should be located between the shoulder and knee height. Items should be easy to see and to grasp with one hand without moving other items. Only like items should be stacked or stored in front of each other.
Utilizing these guidelines will help organize storage to reduce time, effort and accidents, as well as keep items in order.

Mississippi Concert Hall features American works

Mississippi Concert Hall will feature works by American composers at 9 a.m., Thursday, Nov. 5, on PRM, marking the celebration of American Music Week. With a repeat broadcast at 1 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 8.

duced by William Fulton. PRM, a division of Mississippi ETV, is broadcast on FM frequency 90.3, Biloxi.

The University of Mississippi Symphonic Band, conducted by Luther Snively, plays E.E. Bagley's "National Emblem March." The Jackson State University Choral, directed by Robert L. Morris, sings "We're Goin' Around" from Scott Joplin's Treemonisha. The University of Southern Mississippi Men's Chorus, conducted by Larry Smith, performs "The Pasture" from Randall Thompson's Frodo.

Also featured is John Paul at the harpsichord for Scott Joplin's "Gladiolus Rag." The University of Mississippi Concert Singers, directed by Jerry Jordan, present the traditional spiritual "Deep River."

Mississippi Coast Jazz Society plans 10th annual festival

Beginning with an old time jazz parade at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 15, the Mississippi Coast Jazz Society will hold its 10th Annual Jazz Festival at the Royal d'Iberville Hotel on the Beach in Biloxi.
Jazz bands will be featured the rest of the day in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel, and will kick off with the "Royal Street Seven" from Mobile, Ala.
Four local jazz groups will also play during the afternoon and evening, and there will be an "open jam" session for all musicians who wish to participate.

The "Royal Street Seven" from Mobile performed at the Jazz Society's first Festival 10 years ago, and the group is made up of professionals from all walks of life.
Formed in 1967, they have played with the City of Mobile Pops Band, also for President Nixon, Ford, and Reagan, and Vice-presidents Agnew and Bush, and Governor George Wallace.
They cut an album several years ago, "The Royal Street Seven Takes a Trip." Explaining that there are two types of Dixieland Jazz, Chicago and New Orleans style, they prefer the New Orleans style over the ragtime sound of Chicago jazz.

Local bands to be featured this year are Al Arguelles and "The Reflections," Lois McAlister and her "Gulf Coast Dixieland Jazz Band," Larry Semski and his "Jazz, Etc.," and John Thomas and "The Bourbon Street East."
"Second Liners," (umbrella gals) will lead off the Parade, and everyone is invited to take part with the marching band.
Admission to the Festival is $4 for guests, $3 for members, and $2 for students. Proceeds will benefit the Jazz Society's Scholarship Fund.
High school seniors who are residents of the three-county Gulf Coast area, are active musicians, and who plan to attend a Mississippi college or university, may apply for a scholarship through their school's band director or guidance counselor.

Co-chairmen of the event are Shelby Blunt and John Thomas; finance chairman is Jerry Hurlbert, publicity chairman is Jeanette Westfall. President of the Jazz Society is Audrey Kern.
For more information locally, write or call Blunt, 11283 Creel Circle, Gulfport, 39503, phone 896-1593.
Out-of-town jazz buffs may wish to take advantage of the special Jazz Package offered by the Royal d'Iberville Hotel: (in state) 1-800-222-3906, or (out of state) 1-800-647-3955.
They are also offering a special buffet in Le Petite Jazz Cafe adjacent to the main ballroom.
Write the Mississippi Gulf Coast Convention and Visitors Bureau, P.O. Box 4554, Biloxi, MS., 39535-4554, phone 1-800-237-9493 or 601-388-8000.

FACTS ON AIDS
If a person is neither a male homosexual nor an IV drug user, he or she may wonder why it should be important to watch a television documentary about AIDS.
On Friday, Nov. 6, a new program on ETV, "AIDS: Changing the Rules," will explain and show why by giving frank, factual information aimed specifically at heterosexual adults.
This documentary will be preceded at 8:30 p.m. by a half-hour panel discussion with representatives from Mississippi's State Department of Health who will put the problem in perspective on a local level.
Participating in the panel will be Dr. Ed Thompson, state epidemiologist, State Department of Health; Jona Keeton, R.N., AIDS Education/Risk Reduction project coordinator, State Department of Health; and Dr. Jeffrey A. Kelly, professor-in-chief of the division of psychology at the University of Mississippi Medical Center.

Next, at 9 p.m., Ron Reagan Jr. will host the documentary, and immediately afterwards Judy Wodruff will host a panel discussion among AIDS experts on the national level.
The documentary at 9 p.m. opens with a film featuring Ron Reagan, model Beverly Johnson and salsa star Ruben Blades.
With sensitivity, candor and, where appropriate, humor, the film lays out the scope of the problem and suggests steps individuals can take to minimize the risk of contracting the disease.
Clear and useful information on a variety of topics and suggests ways people can comfortably and honestly talk to each other about AIDS is presented.
Also in the documentary, two heterosexual persons with AIDS—a mother, whose baby also has the disease, and a young husband whose illness was diagnosed two months after his marriage—tell their own compelling stories.

THE JAY & CROW SEASON

Even if you couldn't feel the nip in the air, see occasional leaves swirling groundward, or hear the drone of cotton pickers in the distance and smell defoliant in the air these days, a typical Mississippi morning isn't very far advanced before the blue jays and crows let you know their seemingly favorite season of the year is upon us again.

This spring and summer the blue jays around our place have been almost on the quiet side with most of the woodland and meadow melodies coming from the cardinals, assorted warblers, wrens, rain crows and doves.

But as late summer faces into early autumn the voices of the birds undergo certain changes. And of late the blue jays have certainly asserted their presence, shrilling one moment from the loftiest treetops or flapping about constantly the next in their most visible act of the year.

Some folks consider blue jays too aggressive and raucous. I find it hard to criticize these hardy and plucky, beautiful, blue, white and black birds that have been so much a part of my life. And they have taught me a few things along life's way.

As a boy I considered them among the tough guys in the bird kingdom. I robbed their nests on occasion, fired off my BB gun at them on others, once took a good pecking while precariously perched on an oak limb from an irate blue jay mother when I chose to look into her nest, and gradually learned that there are higher and better instincts than killing for killing's own sake.

That lesson came one day when I cruised on my bicycle down a gravel road that passed in front of our house and spotted a blue jay perched on a limb which stuck out over the road.

Alertly I braked to a halt, put the bike on its kickstand, and picked up a good-size rock from the road. For a moment I must have imagined that I was a pitcher on the mound in Yankee Stadium and that poor Blue Jay still sitting there was all there was between me and a shutout game.

I overhanded the rock with all my strength at the hapless bird and scored a dead center strike. The bird fell dead on the roadbed.

I goatingly picked it up, tossed it in my basket and rode on down the road to show it off to my friends. It impressed them, and me too at first. Then, somehow I began to lose my enthusiasm for my deed. I guess I began to realize what it meant to be really dead.

Fortunately there seem to be plenty of blue jays, for they easily survived me and others like me, and a later incident when my father let me shoot his shotgun for the first time and I squeezed both triggers and knocked another blue jay into Kingdom Come that was perched in the tip top of a tall red oak tree in our pasture.

Now, I wonder what possessed me then. I like those blue and white things that warn us by their screaming if a snake approaches the house, or if an owl or hawk is flying or perching nearby trying to be inconspicuous. I don't even now begrudge them the half eaten water oak acorns they strew about the place or the occasional smaller birds they bully up on.

But fall wouldn't even arrive in Mississippi I suppose if the crows didn't flock and flap around from dawn to dusk checking out every bit of natural food nature has to offer—especially pecans.

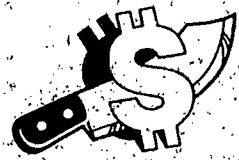

I've shot them, hung them up on branches as an example for others not to follow, and lain prone on my stomach on the turnrow of a cornfield to chase them away from sprouting seed with pings from a 22 rifle, but still they come and go, singly and in clusters, and think nothing of holding crow conventions in the pinetops near my house.

They're still teaching and I'm still learning from them. I particularly enjoy seeing them line up on a plank fence that I pass on the way to work acting like refugees from a Walt Disney film with all their antics and stiff-legged stalkings about. I really get a kick out of the fact that someone I know recently seeded a meadow with grain to enhance dove hunting opportunities only to have crows flock in from far and wide in what appears to be a pre-Thanksgiving observance.

Blue jays and crows make me glad it's fall!

Small business resource conference scheduled

Congressman Trent Lott and the U.S. Small Business Administration are sponsoring a "Small Business Resource conference" on Friday, Nov. 6, 1987. This one-day event, the first of its kind, will be held at the Royal D'Iberville in Biloxi.

Lott will be the featured speaker during the luncheon program.

The conference will present over 100 resource representatives from federal, state, private and quasi-public agencies and organizations that provide assistance to 9,000 small businesses in Mississippi. The program is designed to help the entrepreneurs identify business opportunities and enhance their problem-solving abilities.

Many of the agency representatives will provide brief summaries of their programs throughout the day. Information will be provided on Finance, Business Development, Government Procurement, Minority and Veterans programs, Women in Business programs and many others. Representatives will also discuss major government regulations and requirements that affect small business owners.

The $25 conference fee includes the luncheon, coffee breaks, all printed materials and a copy of the "Small Business Resource Directory." The "Directory" will include names, addresses, phone numbers and program outlines of all the participating agencies and organizations.

For further information, call the Gulfport SBA office at 863-4449, or the Jackson SBA office at 965-4378. Due to limited space, early registration is recommended.

Effective coupon use is individual choice

By Barbara McLaurin
Human Nutrition

Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Newspaper, magazine and circular price-off coupons become part of the collected clutter of many households.

According to the Food Marketing Institute, a non-profit association of food retailers, wholesalers, and their customers, the use of price-off coupons in 1987 is the most commonly used economizing measure for saving money in the grocery store.

FMI reports that 37 percent of the shopping public uses coupons "pretty much every time" and 22 percent use them "fairly often."

Couponing first began in the late nineteenth century and has grown slowly ever since. According to Forecast magazine, in 1984, 163 billion coupons were distributed by companies of all sizes. Of that number, about four percent—or 6.2 billion—were actually redeemed.

More than 80 percent of coupons are used for grocery items. Coupons most often redeemed are those for coffee, detergents, dog food and cereals.

According to Environmental Nutrition newsletter, manufacturers issue coupons for several reasons. One is to introduce new products into the marketplace. Next to giving away free samples, coupons are a good way to encourage a first purchase.

Some coupons are issued to move slow-selling products. Besides stimulating sales, manufacturers know that supermarkets will be forced to keep their product well-stocked so as not to disappoint customers who come in to redeem the coupons.

In product categories with stiff competition—those for which consumers perceive little difference in brands—coupons may well decide which products consumers buy.

Manufacturers may also issue coupons as a way to reduce prices—either temporarily or without having to officially change the price of the item. It is easier to stop issuing coupons than to increase the base price of a product.

Retailers—the supermarkets themselves—also issue coupons, for national brands on their own store labels. These are intended to convince shoppers to patronize their particular store. Some compete for customers by also offering double or even triple coupon values.

From the consumer standpoint, the big question regarding coupons is: Are they worth it? Or are they only a waste of time?

Here are some considerations to

PRESS

help people decide whether coupons are worth the time and effort:

—Consider the time spent in locating, clipping, organizing, and refunding coupons. While heavy coupon users can save 20 percent to 40 percent or even more on the grocery bill, the consumer should ask how she would be spending the time if not couponing? If, other priorities limit the amount of time for couponing, saving money by this method may not be right for that consumer.

—Is couponing enjoyable? Some people coupon for the sheer fun of it. They like to organize and swap coupons with friends. Perhaps the psychological value of couponing comes into play here; it isn't so much the money saved, as it is the satisfaction of fighting inflation.

—Coupons are only money savers if the consumer would have bought the item(s) anyway. Coupons that cause purchase of unneeded items or items in sizes too large for the household are no bargain. Consumers should use coupons wisely to make them work for and not against them.

For those who decide that couponing is right for them, here are some tips from Forecast magazine from a fulltime couponer/refunder:

—Use the manufacturer's coupon along with a store coupon for the same item.

—Shop at a store that is offering "double coupons."

—Save and use product proof-of-purchase seals to obtain a manufacturer's rebate. This offers a possible triple savings.

—If a coupon does not specify the product size, purchase the smaller size for a higher percentage of savings. If the store is doubling coupons, consumers often can get the product at almost no cost.

—One easy way to organize coupons is to use a shoe box filing system, which will fit easily into most shopping carts. Divide the coupons into categories that work best for the shopper, for example, canned goods, milk/dairy products, cereal/grain/bread products, pet products, frozen foods, and the like.

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT 5

You, the people of District 5 expressed your desire for change through your gracious support in the recent Democratic Primaries. The final step toward new, progressive and responsible leadership can be made on election day November 3, 1987.

To those voters who supported me in the Democratic Primaries, I thank you and urge that you make the effort on November 3, 1987 to go to the polls and remind your friends and relatives to vote on November 3. To those who for some reason were unable to vote for and support me previously, I ask you to consider my qualifications and sincere desire to serve the people of Hancock County as reflected in my platform.

MY PROGRESSIVE IDEAS ARE:

- *Close supervision to insure that tax dollars are spent wisely and benefit everyone in Hancock County
- *Better utilization of Stennis International Airport
- *Highway signs that attract tourists to beaches, campgrounds, and other businesses
- *Using Hancock County's greatest potential, its people, including youth and senior citizens for a better development of our county
- *Use of Hancock County's highways, coastal waterways, and airport to attract industry and create more jobs
- *Conduct meetings with citizens in order to be kept informed of their needs and concerns
- *Work harmoniously with the Unit System (It will work)
- *Unselfish leadership to coordinate the activities of county, civic, and state organizations for the betterment of Hancock County
- *Follow through with telephone exchange system to make 466 and 467 exchanges the same as the 255 exchange

OLA 'shipwrecked' at fall gala

The Junior Class of Our Lady Academy sponsored a dance with Fantasy on Saturday evening to raise money for the school prom. Theme of the dance was Shipwrecked '87.

In one area of the Bay Catholic Elementary School's cafeteria, where the dance was held, the girls took photographs. A committee of OLA juniors—Donna Hockert, Vicky LaFontaine, Diane Meeks, Kerry Merrigan, Angela Summers and Lori Zeringue—designed the 'shipwrecked' backdrop.

This area was a popular spot during the evening.

Kerry Merrigan, OLA Junior Class president, said the class would sponsor another dance in January.

PLANTS CONFISCATED—Bay St. Louis Police Officer Shane Corr shows approximately 30 marijuana plants Monday between Kellar and Sycamore streets in Bay St. Louis. The plants were reported by a Bay resident whose son discovered the patch of plants and brought one home, according to Bay Detective David Murtagh. He also said land where the plants were being grown belonged to an elderly woman who had no knowledge of the plants. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

Weekly State Crop Report

Mississippi farmers anticipated respectable soybean yields this harvest season but what has turned up in their fields is a bushful of disappointment.

Some individuals will have record yields on their crops while others

Soybean farmers dismayed by yields will have a bitter harvest in 1987. The rest were to have at least broken even and their crops told them as much.

About half of the 2.5 million acre crop has been harvested and yields have been low for too many farmers.

Farmers and experts are puzzled. "There is no singular reason why yields are so low," said Dr. Nathan McKinney, the soybean specialist at the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. "From the road we thought we had an average crop. The first time we put our combines in the field, we knew something was wrong."

State farmers have had to cope with extremely hot temperatures or drought in past growing season, and when one or the other condition has been prolonged, yields have been expectedly low. The 1986 crop was at the mercy of heat and drought, and yields plummeted to 18 bushels an acre on a 2.5 million acre crop.

Soybean crops of the past, when faced with extreme weather, showed physical stress. Stress on the plants can indicate lower yield potential but this year's crop gave no such clue.

"The crop did not show the same degree of stress that accompanied last year's disastrous crop," McKinney said. "We don't expect yields to get any better as the rest of the crop comes in."

McKinney said lack of rain in August and September is the primary reason for lower yields. But, some irrigated fields—which did not lack for water—have unexpectedly yielded fewer bushels per acre.

"One or two rains in August or September could have made a $10 million to $20 million difference in the crop statewide," McKinney said. "We just don't have an answer yet."

In other agricultural news, county agents reported that most of their cotton farmers are winding up harvests with better than expected yields. Soybean farmers are at the midpoint, harvestwise.

Lowndes County cotton farmers are averaging between 500 and 550 pounds of lint per acre, said county agent Dexter Chochran.

"We have a few good soybean fields with 30-plus bushel an acre yields, but some are as low as 4 bushels an acre," Chochran said.

Rock Tracks

By Rich Wilson

Motorhead's new album entitled Rock 'n' Roll includes the title track from the upcoming New Line motion picture release Eat The Rich, as well as a special guest appearance by Monty Python's Michael Palin. As usual (for Motorhead), the LP was created and completed with lightning speed, taking three weeks to write, eleven days to record and ten to mix. "We work better under pressure," explains Wurzel, the band's lead guitarist. Guitarist Phil Campbell points out, "Did you ever listen to a record that's taken eight months to record? All the feeling is gone out of it." Someone ought to buy him a copy of Pink Floyd's The Wall album.

The Eat The Rich movie is scheduled for simultaneous release

Resistant infections succumb to new drug group, Ochsner reports

NEW ORLEANS—Some stubborn infections, which have proved resistant to existing antibiotics, have succumbed to the action of a completely new group of drugs called the quinolones.

Three of the quinolones, ciprofloxacin, enoxacin and ofloxacin, have been tested in clinical trials at the Ochsner Medical Institutions in New Orleans for a number of months and have had no major side effects, says Dr. George A. Pankey, head of the Ochsner Clinic section on infectious diseases.

Dr. Pankey, who is one of the team of investigators studying the new compounds, reports they have been found to be effective in a wide range of infections. The three quinolones are due to be released by the Food and Drug Administration for general use by physicians during 1988, he says.

In an article recently published in the American Journal of Medicine, the Ochsner team reports an 85 percent improvement when 32 patients with skin and soft tissue infections, such as bed sores, wound infections and infected diabetic ulcers of the feet, took ciprofloxacin by mouth twice daily.

"Ciprofloxacin was well tolerated with minimal adverse reactions. The advantages of taking this drug include the fact that it is administered by mouth only twice a day and that its use can shorten the length of hospitalization," he points out.

"For example, take the treatment of osteomyelitis, or bone infection. These new drugs can make it possible for the patient to be treated at home.

Instead of being hospitalized for six weeks after the appropriate surgery normally required for cleaning the infected bone tissue, the patient can be discharged to home care after a few days because the medication can be taken by mouth.

Being sure the patient takes the medicine is not a large problem because it has few unpleasant side effects," Dr. Pankey points out.

He says that well over 100 patients ranging in age from 18 to the 80s have been treated successfully at Ochsner with one of the three quinolones.

He cautions, however, that use of the new drugs is not indicated for young children, pregnant women, nursing mothers or those allergic to the quinolones.

"These drugs represent good therapy for prostate infections as well as for gonorrhea (but not syphilis). In addition, they have proved to be very useful for community acquired pneumonia, which is the type of pneumonia that is not contracted in a hospital or nursing home.

The germs for one type of pneumonia differ from the other," he explains.

In addition to being effective in respiratory tract infections, skin and skin structure infections, and bone and joint infections, the quinolones are also effective in urinary tract infections as well as infectious diarrhea caused by salmonella, shigella, cholera and others.

When the quinolones are given to elderly patients they can be very effective. But, because many of the elderly are taking other medications, they must be monitored.

For example, if they are also taking theophyllin, a drug widely used for asthma and emphysema, blood levels of theophyllin need to be monitored.

Taking antacids can interfere with the absorption of these drugs, he cautions.

Are there any bacteria against which the quinolones are not effective? They are not good for strep infections and infections caused by anaerobic bacteria such as diverticulitis and other infections in the abdomen and the female pelvis, Dr. Pankey says.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Avoid curious associates.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) If you combine your biggest ideas with your greatest amount of energy, things will turn out as you anticipated.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Be out and about in the world now, and call on some friends you miss. Start solving your personal affairs with ease.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Do some research now concerning your financial future; your friends in the business can give you great assistance. You comprehension is high now.

Cancer (June 21-July 20) If things seem difficult to handle now, be sure to grab the bull by the horns. Look into new outlets for relieving stress.

Leo (July 21-Aug. 22) Your hunches are most accurate now; so whatever you do, make sure your heart is in it. Take a little time for recreation.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your romantic state of affairs is on the upswing, but be sure you don't let any of this go to your head. Your logical mind is your best asset now.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) If things have you puzzled now, relax; it's only a matter of time before a good friend steps in and helps you. Your persuasive skills are effective now.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Financial affairs should be preoccupying your time now. Think over how you want to put new deals over with a partner.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Enjoying your personal interests is foremost on your mind now. This is fine provided you've taken care of the more practical aspects of life.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If a new acquaintance is poking around in your business, be on guard; this person could be trouble. Be positive and precise when making your plans.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) There's a lot of pressure on you now to come up with effective solutions. Since you work well under pressure, you should handle this situation nicely.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Your friends are calling on you now to go out and have fun, so listen to them! If someone gives you inside information, take it, but be leery of acting on it.

If you were born this week, you are one of those people who usually gets a late start on things, but at the same time you come through in the pinch. That may be a problem with some people since your reliability isn't what it should be. To improve this, be more direct methods. Your potential is nearly limitless this way.

United Way supports District Scouting

Editor's Note: Following is the 16th in a series of articles being presented by the Sea Coast Echo on agencies which are partially funded by the United Way of Hancock County. The local United Way 1987 fundraising drive is currently underway. Lonnie Clayborn of Waveland is chairman of this year's drive. The goal is 65,000.

The Scout program is an educational program for boys 6 years old to 18 and for girls 14-18.

The Cub Scout Program is for boys in the First through fifth grades. It is a family oriented program.

The Boy Scout program is for boys in the 6th grade through 18 years of age with an emphasis on the outdoor program.

The Explorer program is for both boys and girls in high school and is a vocational program centered around career interests.

Also, the New Orleans Area Council operates a 1,500 acre Scout Reservation in the Northern part of Hancock County. That is where boys spend a week long camp in summer and winter and is also used on weekends year round.

Cypress District ended 1986 with 187 boys in Tiger Cubs and Cub Scouts in seven packs, 194 Boy Scouts in 8 troops and 23 Explorers in 4 posts for a total of 404 members in 23 packs, troops and posts.

Growth in membership 1986 over 1985 was 15.4 percent.
